Interviewer's Comments

Meeting with Sabrina was a pleasant and positive experience for us at Tip-top Au Pairs. We can tell that she is a strong individual who is determined to make a success of her life and add meaning to lives of others. After completing her degree, she recently moved to Johannesburg with the prospect of becoming an au pair while she studies further to become a Sports Massage Therapist. Sabrina feels very "at home" and familiar around children since she has been a babysitter since high school. She has also been an au pair and found that she absolutely loves the job. Seeing how vibrant, energetic and passionate she is, we could easily believe this. Learning is a vital part of Sabrina's life; she tries to learn something new every day. She also likes to introduce children to activities that are not only fun, but educational. One of Sabrina's true strengths is being a homework assistant or tutor. She has the ability to explain things to children in ways they can easily understand, and she has all the patience in the world. Her combination of braininess and sportiness seems to be just the right recipe for making her an excellent au pair. Now that she is a part of our team, we are certain that Sabrina's love of learning and determination will quickly make her indispensable to a family. We are pleased to recommend her for any au pair position available.
